

Opening soon at the Museum of Sydney

Eora by Michael Riley

Opens Saturday 7 December, open daily (closed Christmas Day), 10am–5pm, free entry

Eora, by acclaimed Wiradjuri/Kamilaroi filmmaker Michael Riley (1960–2004), is a 20-minute digital film on display at the Museum of Sydney from December.

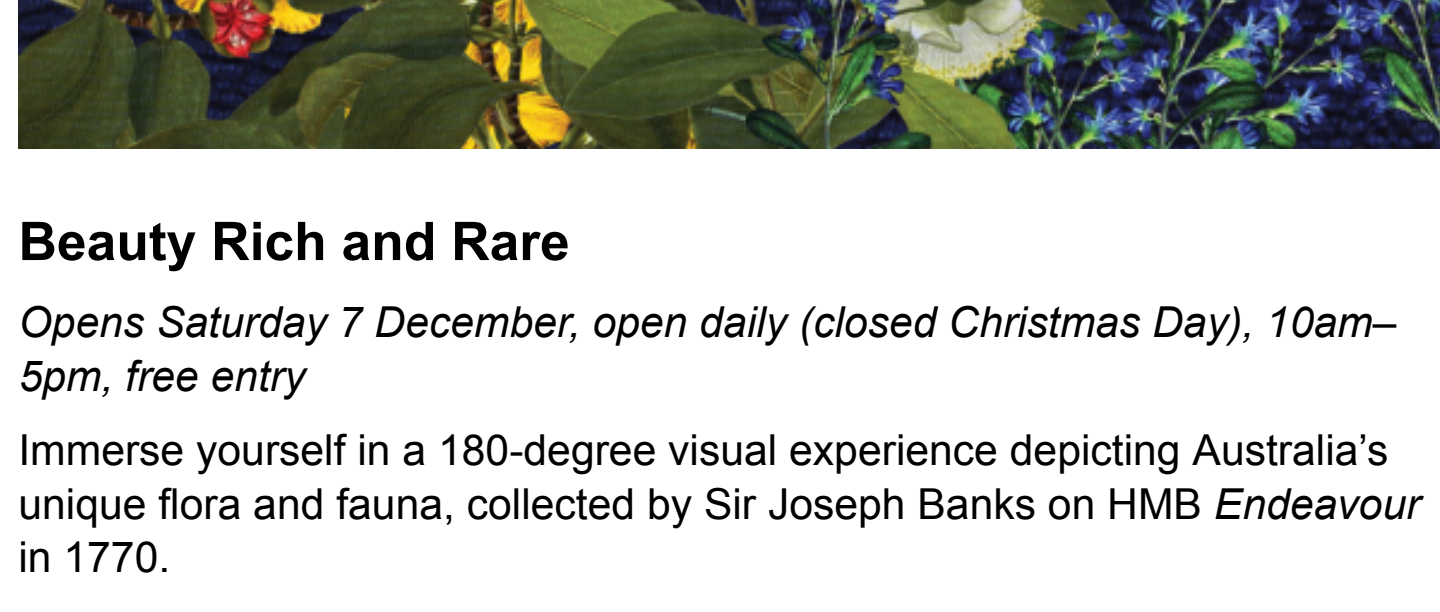

This compelling work, shown across three large screens, interweaves archival imagery, natural landscapes, and contemporary First Nations art with a soundscape featuring the voices of local First Nations people.

Recently digitised, Eora was originally commissioned for the Museum of Sydney's opening in 1995 and remains a powerful tribute to First Nations resilience, cultures and beauty.

Experience Riley's legacy as we prepare to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Museum of Sydney.

Beauty Rich and Rare

Opens Saturday 7 December, open daily (closed Christmas Day), 10am–5pm, free entry

Immerse yourself in a 180-degree visual experience depicting Australia's unique flora and fauna, a collected by Sir Joseph Banks on HMB Endeavour in 1770.

Beauty Rich and Rare is a 20-minute digital work of art that uses maps, journals and other documents from the Endeavour voyage to re-create the wonder experienced by Banks and the botanists, scientists and illustrators on that extraordinary adventure. From the first landing at Botany Bay to the last landfall in Australia's far north, Banks and his companions captured Australia's beautiful, rich and rare flora and fauna in meticulous detail and collected it in great volume.

Beauty Rich and Rare is an original exhibition by AGB Creative. Commissioned by the National Library of Australia.
